VON PARIAHS (FR)

Album: «Hidden Tensions» (Release: 11.04.2014)

Von Pariahs' music is in tune with their era: a mixture of rock, punk, raw and straightforward melodies that meet the power of the Eighties, from cold wave to no wave including shoegaze: it's as if Gang Of Four was mixed with Jesus And Mary Chain, Joy Division and Talking Heads. Their debut album «Hidden Tensions» has everything to bring the Von Pariahs into the history of French rock: real songs, smartly thought and crammed with rage.

Their music is in tune with their era: a mixture of rock, punk, raw and straightforward melodies that meet the power of the Eighties, from cold wave to no wave including shoegaze: it's as if Gang Of Four was mixed with Jesus And Mary Chain, Joy Division and Talking Heads. All sung with a sincere and singular British voice – Sam, the vocalist, was born in Jersey (UK). In short, their music is one of a generation of artists who, thanks to the internet, quickly digested the history of music to better dissect it, and retain only the best parts when composing original songs turned towards the future.

On stage, the group dominates the space, the honesty sweats off every note and the songs form an even more intense shape, both with human and wild aspects. Luz, the famous french cartoonist and avid rock fan, even found the right words to describe the band after having seen them in concert: «Ian Curtis isn't dead, he's getting smashed in Nantes with the most promising young French band, the Von Pariahs, Interpolesque voice and Joy-Strokesision sound!»

Today, the six members of the Von Pariahs present the culmination of all their efforts: Hidden Tensions. Mixed by Stefan BRANDSTROM (Holograms) and recorded at Black Box recording studios by David Odlum (Tinariwen ...) and Odyssey studios by Michael Declerck, this debut album has everything to bring the Von Pariahs into the history of French rock: real songs, smartly thought and crammed with rage. Just like the cover of Hidden Tensions, a work of art by the visual artist Theo Mercier, they play strong and stripped down rock music.
